GATEWAY Survey Shows Disinterest Among Omahans

State Help? Reaction Up On Campus

by Larry Porter

Difference Seen With Responses

Omaha is not interested in supporting a municipal university.

This opinion was voiced by the majority of students who were questioned in an informal survey conducted by the GATEWAY. The survey's purpose was to find out how students felt about OU becoming a state supported school.

"Omaha's disinterest was clearly shown in last year's mill levy election," said one student. "Omaha doesn't care if our tuition is increased. Why should we pay more when the city doesn't appreciate what OU does for it?"

Matter of Time

However, some students believe that eventually a mill levy election will go through.

"It's just a matter of time before Omaha wakes up," a senior stated. "Eventually people will recognize the fact that the cost of education has risen."

The belief that tuition rates will go down if OU should come under state control swayed most of the students. In the wake of recent tuition increases these students feel they are paying more than their share.

"We pay 67 percent of the cost of our education while the students at Nebraska pay only 16 percent," said one disgruntled student.

So What?

A sophomore pointed out that tuition for both residents and non-residents was $6 in 1957. This was compared to rates of $11 for residents and $20 for non-residents this year.

"So what?" countered another student. "Most of us live at home. We can afford an increase in tuition."

Another minority voice pointed out there has been no guarantee that tuition rates would be cut.

"If we go under state control more buildings probably will be built," he said. "Do you think the rural-dominated state legislature will increase out-state taxes for the benefit of Omaha?"

SEA Officer Runoff Scheduled April 15

Election of officers for Students' Education Association will take place April 15 at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Center.

A newsletter containing the rules of the election will be sent to SEA members before the meeting. Anyone who does not receive a letter may obtain one from Dr. Hlavac, sponsor.

NOTICES

The University of Washburn, Topeka, Kans., will present a free concert of band music Monday at 8 p.m. in the S.C. Ballroom.

Evening Prayer at 6:30 p.m. and a regular business meeting at 7 p.m. will highlight Canterbury Club activities Sunday.

Angels, Sabres Leave For Meet Two Cadets Attend National Conclave

Thursday night the AFROTC Sabre Drill Team accompanied by the Marching Angels left Omaha for the Annual Phalanx Invitational Drill Meet at the University of Nebraska.

Phalanx is a national honorary and professional military fraternity for Army ROTC. It is much like the Air Force Arnold Air Society.

The Sabres, commanded by Cdt. Capt. William Applegate, competed against six other drill teams from the Nebraska area.

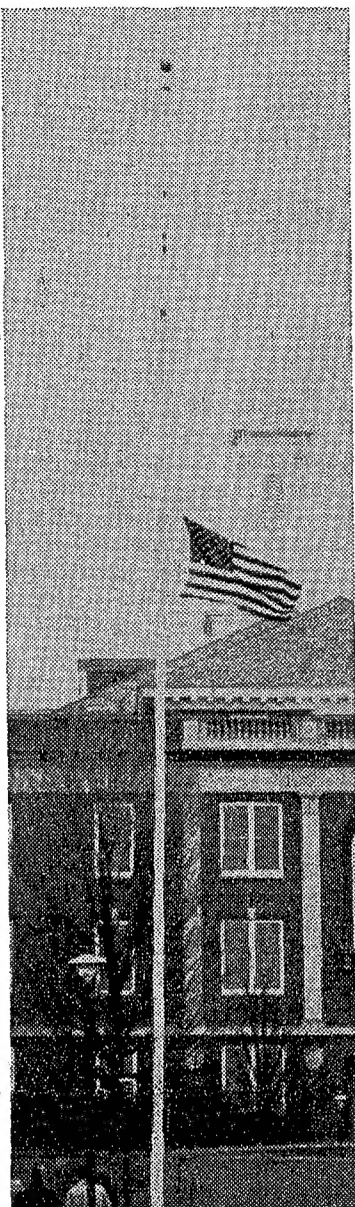

The Marching Angels, commanded by Cdt. Lt. Col. Eddie Powers Jr., gave an exhibition performance.

Houdek, Iakisch Attend Conclave

Two Cadets of the AFROTC Arnold Air Society left Wednesday for Denver, Colo. for the Arnold Air National Conclave.

The two cadets were Cdt. Maj. Robert Iakisch, the new AAS commander and Cdt. Maj. James Houdek, the outgoing commander.

They will be accompanied on the four day trip by Capt. M. E. Ray, Commandant of Cadets.

Hawkins Crane Wrecks 2 Cars

A 30-ton crane owned by the Hawkins Construction Company flipped over Thursday morning damaging two cars and blocking traffic to the parking lot west of the Applied Arts Building.

Crane operator Loren Hardisty, 58, of Council Bluffs said that as he started to raise a clam bucket toward the construction site he felt the crane tip.

The crane fell across the entrance road to the parking lot and crashed down on two cars parked in the free lot south of the Applied Arts Building.

The cars were owned by Elizabeth Purdy, 20, of 7823 Military Ave. and Edward R. Johnson, 22, of 1724 Lake St.

Higher Education Committee "Plans Nothing For OU"

Quality In Education Is Group's Aim State Control Angle Misnomer For OU

by Al Johnson

"No one intends to do anything. If the University of Omaha wants to remain autonomous, then it can stay that way."

The above quote echoes the prevailing attitude of State Senator Marvin Stromer of Lincoln who heads the Legislative Council Study Committee on Higher Education. The GATEWAY talked with the Senator this week in an effort to find out just what his committee is attempting to do in regard to higher education in the state and how the University of Omaha is involved.

No Official Talk

The Senator first of all clarified that the committee isn't attempting in any way, any action for the state of Nebraska to "take over control of the University of Omaha." He noted that at present there has been no official talk considering such a move. However, he did say that there has been an investigation concerning a budget for OU if such action were taken. This, he quickly noted, was for the express purpose of obtaining facts and background information so that the matter of "co-ordinating" could be discussed more intelligently. He did not, however, elaborate on the facts thus far gained from the investigation.

Function

The Senator described his committee's overall function at present as trying to draw up a plan for higher education which can best serve the youth of Nebraska. The committee, he said, is primarily interested in "quality education." He added that the result of the work and knowledge gained will be presented to the State Legislature because higher education is fast falling into the category of a complex problem. In looking toward the future, Stromer said that "in ten years there will be 35 to 40 thousand first graders in the state and 17 to 19 thousand high school graduates each year." In regard to this increase of potential college entrants, he emphasized that "the most important plan would be one meeting a demand for education that would be second to none."

No "State Control"

Before commenting on the part of OU in such a plan to co-ordinate all state colleges and universities, Senator Stromer explained that the entire state must be considered and not just individual institutions. He said that the use of the words "state control" is wrong in its application.

Campus News In Brief

Vogt Speaks At Clergymen's Convention

Omaha University sociology professor, Philip Vogt, will be among the keynote speakers at a convention of clergymen to be held in Omaha next week. Mr. Vogt's topic will be, "The Church and Juvenile Delinquency."

Omaha Playhouse

Omaha Playhouse director Kendrick Wilson has issued a plea to any Omaha University students interested in auditioning for some of the available roles still left for the comedy, "Take Her She's Mine." Auditions will be held Sunday, April 12, at 2 p.m., and Monday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m.

Sandburg

Mike Kiskan, Russell Mullens and Merle Reiff were announced this week by Dr. Edwin Clark as being the three students selected for principal parts in the Omaha University production of "The World of Carl Sandburg." The stage presentation can be seen April 23, 24 and 25 in the Administration Building's main auditorium.

Louvered Divider

Omaha University Student Center officials announced this week that the installation of an eight-foot high louvered divider between the lower eating area of the Ouampi Room and the bowling lanes will be started in the near future.

The GATEWAY is published weekly by students of the Omaha University Department of Journalism. Editorial comment and signed letters to the editor are not necessarily representative opinions of the faculty, administration or student body.

Stromer Explains Group Functions

tion to the case. He stressed the plan would be a non-legal relationship and thereby be one of "co-ordination" and not control. Under a master plan of this type Stromer said there would be an exchange of ideas and opinions between the colleges and universities purely on a voluntary basis. This would, he noted, avoid duplication of facilities and avoid empire building on any one campus.

OU Can't Be Ignored

"When discussion of public utilities and complexes come up, one cannot ignore OU." However, the Senator re-emphasized here that the Legislature has no plan to "take over the the University of Omaha". He did say that if it was the feeling of Nebraskans that OU could benefit the state, then legislation probably would be enacted. Adding to this, he said that at the present time, "the Legislature is not carrying the ball."

If the time ever comes when the University of Omaha is considered for "co-ordination" in a legal sense, there are two methods by which this could be accomplished. This action could, first of all, come in the form of a constitutional amendment approved by the people of the state; or the Legislature could enact a law securing this end and which also would have to be approved by the voters. Stromer said that under this situation, the University would receive financial support from tuition and a legislative apportionment from the state budget committee. The budget committee, he said, would determine the priorities for the distribution of the state collected funds. This would also take the burden off Omahans he added.

Approval By All

However, before any such plan that legally binds Nebraska's colleges and universities together could go into effect, the entire state would have to approve the measure.

Editor's Comment

The letter indorsed by the Interfraternity Council and the Panhellenic Council was originally submitted for presentation in last week's GATEWAY but was delayed a week because of a difference of opinion as to how it would be displayed. The sponsoring organizations bought space in the newspaper and planned to run the letter as a paid advertisement. The GATEWAY staff decided against any charge since the letter could, in no way, be construed as an advertisement. The representative who submitted the letter insisted it would be run as an ad. By the time the situation was cleared, it was too late to meet the deadline.

The GATEWAY staff could not allow the impression that any organization has to pay in order that their views be printed in the paper.

Letter To The Editor

Sirs:
Parenthood has its price and it never seems more exorbitant than on those occasions of disorganization, boredom and tears which masquerade as "Halloween parties", "school picnics", and "Easter egg hunts" for the kiddies. The determined good cheer of the sponsors only makes them more painful, as a rule.

So it was in the spirit of grim duty that I accompanied my three to the Easter egg hunt sponsored Palm Sunday by the Independent Students Association and, to my amazement, found that: Things were organized. The Easter eggs were hidden. It started on time. There were enough eggs. The law of the jungle was mitigated by having the kids separated into age groups. And in a little while it was over and we all went home, grateful, I must say, and genuinely impressed by the inconspicuously efficient way that everything had been done.

Letter To The Editor

"You certainly have an anti-Greek newspaper."

This is a typical quote from one of the Colorado State debaters who was our guest on Friday, March 20th. The issue of the GATEWAY on that day presented an interesting paradox to any responsible, thinking student of any university. On Page 1 there appeared a cartoon purporting to reflect campus opinion with regard to Greek Help Week. On Page 2 there appeared a fatuous editorial filled with innuendoes and half-truths regarding the Greek Week project of painting at Children's Memorial Hospital. On Page 6 (buried as a news item considering the stature of the individual quoted) there was a story covering the address of Governor Frank B. Morrison as the honored speaker at the Greek Week Banquet. We quote the Governor from this item:

"People condemn each other and we know when one attacks another or an organization attacks another, it is a sign of our infancy. It is also a sign that we have failed to measure up to knowing ourselves and society."

We submit to you, our fellow students, that the editor of the GATEWAY has certainly shown this "sign of infancy".

The editorial would lead you to believe that the Greeks laid waste to Children's Hospital. The facts do not substantiate this implication. The painting project at the hospital was finished to the complete satisfaction of the Building Superintendent and the Hospital Administrator. The editorial implies that with complete irresponsibility a group of students turned a well-intentioned project into a fun fest. We do not deny that the behavior of some individuals at the hospital was deserving of censure and we sincerely regret their actions.

The smears of a few amateur painters will fade away and, profiting by their errors, they will never repeat that offense. But one wonders if the smears by those persons whose responsibility it is to paint unbiased pictures of campus activities testify not to a lack of ability (as conceivable with "amateurs") but to deliberate efforts to malign.

There was only praise—no criticism of any kind for the University, Children's Hospital or the Greeks until the GATEWAY editor chose to rake mud. He did not present an objective news story to give the facts as they occurred, but used his editorial column to malign the sincere efforts of this institution to do a constructive community service project.

The GATEWAY is financed by money obtained from student activity fees—your money and mine. The editor's job is to put out a weekly newspaper which reports the news of the university community in a professional, objective manner. He has neither the right nor the privilege to use the GATEWAY as a private weapon to discredit any segment of the student body whom he happens to dislike. His appointment as editor carries with it no mantle of omniscience which makes him the sole judge of campus opinion.

In closing his Greek Week editorial the writer called upon all persons to paint a good image of Omaha University. We join him in that plea and suggest that he do his part by serving as editor in a manner which will bring credit not dishonor, and harmony not discord, to our University. Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils

Co-ed Of The Week

This week's "Co-ed of the Week," Milda Markus, didn't need scientific know-how to win a man's heart. She is planning a June wedding.

The 21-year old co-ed is a senior majoring in biology. She hopes to become a medical technician later on.

A member of Sigma Kappa, Milda was once named Cutest Pan. A member of Orchesis and Indiannes, she likes swimming, sunbathing, science and dancing.

Milda was born in Latvia and lived in Germany six years. She has been in the USA 14 years and has lived in Omaha four years.

The GATEWAY extends best wishes to Milda Markus, "Co-ed of the Week."

AEPI To Initiate Annual Pie Toss Contest April 17 Cherrytones Will Play For Twist Contest

If the prospect of smacking someone in the face with a big, creamy pie appeals to you, April 17th is the day to remember.

On this day, Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity will host its first annual "A E Pie Throw" at 7:30 p.m. at the Field House.

Admission will be an activity card.

Each sorority and fraternity, the O-Club and ISA will select candidates to serve as targets in the pie throw. Each throw will cost 25 cents.

A twist contest and dance will be held after the pie throw from 9 to 11 p.m. Admission is 50 cents per couple. The Cherrytones combo will provide music.

Master of Ceremonies Arnie Weintraub will announce the winners of the twist contest. A king and queen of the event will then be selected from participating campus groups on the basis of the amount of money collected in the pie throw.

Proceeds will go to the Olympic Fund to help pay for the American team's trip to Tokyo for the Summer Olympics.

Arnie Weintraub, chairman of the event, had this to say: "The success or failure of this function is up to you. Alpha Epsilon Pi encourages all students to attend."

Faculty sponsors are Dr. C. R. Keppel, Dr. Francis Hurst, Dr. Roger Wadsworth and Capt. M. E. Ray.

Sigma Kappas Dance at Plaza

Sigma Kappa sorority will hold its annual dinner-dance tomorrow evening in the Garden Room at Kiewit Plaza. The event will be held from 7 p.m. to midnight.

The 1964 Sigma Honey, selected by a closed sorority vote, will be announced at the dance.

The active chapter will present an award to the outstanding new active. Alumnae will give a trophy to the active who has made the greatest scholastic improvement.

Spence Taylor and the Cherubs will provide music for dancing.

A pre-party will be held at the home of Pat McFarland at 5:30 p.m.

Drake Will Host TKE's April 11, 12

The Tau Kappa Epsilon chapters from the University of Omaha and nine other midwestern universities will be at Drake University April 11 and 12th for a leadership conference.

Past Grand President, Don Kaser and Field Supervisor, George Richards, will be among the main speakers.

In order to discuss the problems of the individual offices, the TKE members attending the conference will break up into smaller groups.

As a sidenote to the conference there will be a basketball tournament among the individual chapters.

The members of the OU chapter attending the two day event will be Bill Bowen, Mick Coren, Ron Culton, Lance Foster, Joe Sokal, Bruce Will and Ken Wiltse.

Zeta Honey To Spotlight Dance

"April in Paris" is the theme for the annual Zeta Tau Alpha dinner dance tomorrow night at The Lamplighter.

The highlight of the evening is the announcement of the Zeta Honey. He is chosen by the sorority members. The outstanding junior and senior will also be honored.

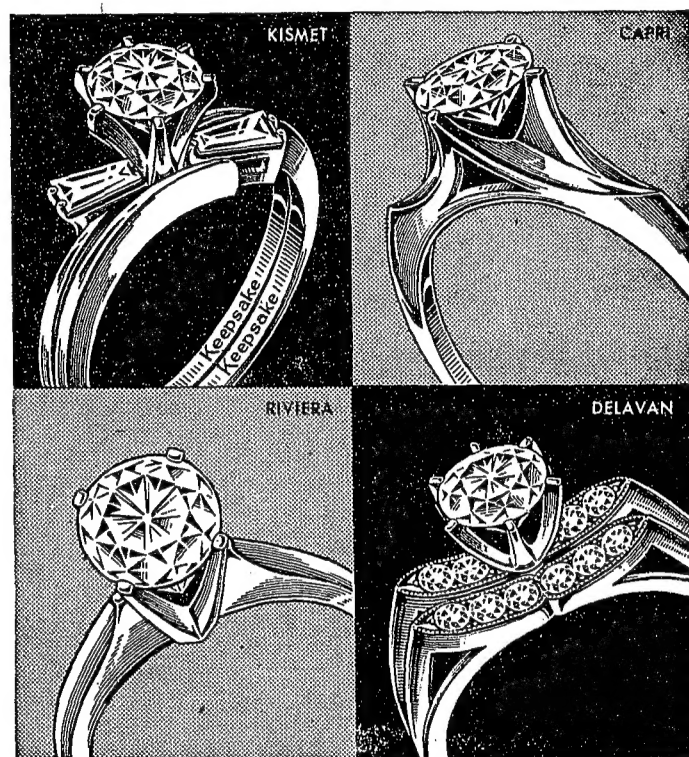

A pre-party for the Zetas and their dates will begin at 6 p.m. at the home of Jane Treutler.

Jan Thompson is in charge of the arrangements. Cathy Elliott and Kathy Fentress are assisting her.

4 To Sigma Kappa

Activation of new members will be held by Sigma Kappa tomorrow morning at First Christian Church. The ceremony will begin at 9 a.m.

Initiates are Kathy Harmon, Jackie Horn, Delores Hurlburt and Pat McFarland.

Krehbiel, McEwen To Start In Today's Double-Header

by Dick Fletcher

Today, Omaha University's baseball team will play host to South Dakota state on the campus at 2:00 p.m.

The double-header slated for the Indians will be the first competition following a week of cancellations.

The top two pitchers from last year's squad are scheduled to start for OU. They are Larry Krehbiel (7-0) and Ken McEwen (6-1). It will be the first appearance for both boys this year.

Five games scheduled for last weekend were cancelled, and will not be replayed, coach Yelkin said.

Senior first baseman Ken Allen is expected to see part-time duty after suffering a knee injury in the season's opener against Peru State. Yelkin said that Allen should be ready to go all the way next week.

Kutilek Fills In

Freshman Dan Kutilek from Creighton Prep is filling in for Allen at first.

Yelkin said the same starting lineup used at Peru in the first game will go against South Dakota State, with the exception of Allen.

A victory in either of the games will be Yelkin's 200th.

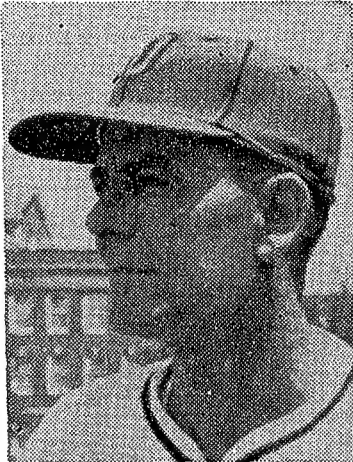

OU's record stands at 2-0. They defeated Peru state twice last week, 6-1, and 5-4.

Virg's 200th Win

"Just lucky," is baseball coach Virgil Yelkin's modest explanation of the success his teams have enjoyed. In the last five years, Yelkin's teams have won 100 games and lost only 22, while winning or tying for the Central Intercollegiate Conference crown. He was selected "NAIA Baseball Coach of the Year" in 1962.

The next game the team wins will be the 200th for the mentor in his 18-year tenure at OU. Before this year's season, the overall percentage stood at .748 on 197 wins, 65 losses, and three ties.

Baseball Coach Virg Yelkin

"To be a winner, you have to work hard—we work them hard with well planned daily practice. No small detail is overlooked," Yelkin said.

Parlay this with what Yelkin calls "intense individual desire" and you have the formula used by one of the most successful coaches in the Midwest.

Heads Up Ball

"We play heads-up ball, and have the boys who want to play that way," Yelkin said, offering another explanation for success.

He's had many good teams over the years, and says he can't pin down the best. Yelkin likes the NAIA runner up squad of 1959, along with last year's, the 1961 team, and the '53, '54, and '55 teams. He said they all were loaded with talent.

This year's team? At the present time, Coach Yelkin rates them a little lower than last year's squad due to the loss of Ken Smith, Joe Neuberger, and Bill Wachtler.

Tourney Proposal

A proposal calling for a double elimination tournament for the Central Intercollegiate Conference Baseball championship will be introduced at next month's meeting in Hays, Kan.

Omaha University baseball coach and Athletic director, Virgil Yelkin told the GATEWAY this week that the coaches will make the proposal to the faculty committee, with hopes of implementing the tourney next year.

The OU boss said that weather conditions in our area cause many cancellations of CIC games, early in the season. Yelkin said that additional traveling to make up the games puts a strain on budgets. He explained that if a game is postponed, the home team must travel to the visitors field for the make-up game.

Yelkin said that only tournament games would decide the championship if the proposal is accepted.

Yelkin said that he's hopeful of reorganizing the Kansas-Nebraska-Missouri league for regular season play.

The loop was dissolved two years ago when Washburn dropped from competition.

Yelkin said that he would like to see a K-N-M league made up of members including: Washburn, Rockhurst, St. Benedicts, Kansas City University, Wichita, Kearney, and possibly Drake.

He added that he would like to see it continue into a summer Collegiant league.

TKE Pulls Away In Kegling; PiKap Leads Volleyball

With Intramural Bowling coming into the home stretch, TKE has lengthened their lead to 10½ games and seem assured of at least a portion of the crown.

TKE holds a record of 76½-15½, topping a total of 48,178 pins. Runner-up throughout the campaign, Bootstrapper No. 1 has faded somewhat and now holds a record of 66-26 with 48,326 pins. Former title holder Lambda Chi completes the top trio with a won-loss score of 61-31 to go along with 46,811 pins.

High team game is held by Bootstrapper No. 1 with an 862; Lambda Chi rolled the high team series with a 2404. Johnny Ray Gomez bowling under Lambda Chi colors holds the high individual game with a spectacular 280.

TKE, Pi Kap and Lambda Chi hold the top three positions in the Interfraternity section of bowling competition.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING STANDINGS

	W	L
TKE	76½	15½
Boot No. 1	66	26
Lambda Chi	61	31
Delta Sigma	57	35
Boot No. 2	56	36
Tri Chi	56	36
Pi Kaps	48	44
Theta Chi	44	48
Epsilon Epsilon	43	49
A E Pi	32	60
Gamma Eta	31½	60½
Ten Pins	28	64
Delta Rho	25	67
Sig Eps	21	71

With Intramural Volleyball coming to a close, Pi Kap with an unblemished record of 12-0 seems near the title. Zekes hold second with a 10-2 tally and TKE is third at 9-3. Competition ends April 23 in the Fieldhouse.

The Intramural Swimming meet is scheduled for Wednesday, April 15 at McMillan Junior High. Competition will get under way at 5:30.

A total of 13 teams will compete in two leagues of Intramural Softball. Season openers will be April 21 on the Elmwood diamonds. Each team will play seven games during the regular season. The three top teams in each circuit will advance to the tourney.

Track Team At Emporia; Gould Shatters OU Mark

by Mike Moran

Coach Lloyd Cardwell and his Omaha University track team are bedded down in Emporia, Kansas, tonight in preparation for tomorrow's running of the Emporia Relays.

The Kansas meet is the first outdoor test of the season for the Indian team as a whole. Sprinters Terry Williams and Roger Sayers have competed on an individual basis in other meets.

OU's Mile Record Falls

OU sophomore Ken Gould contributed the first outstanding Indian performance of the season at the Texas Relays last Saturday.

Gould chalked up a 4:12.5 mile while pushing Emporia's heralded John Camien to victory over a strong field.

The effort shattered the OU mile mark already held by Gould and established the Lyons, Nebraska, native as a definite star of the future in Midwest distance running circles.

Terry Williams took a third in the Texas 100 yard dash. Williams ran a 9.6 behind winner Richard Stebbins of Grambling who won with 9.5.

Nebraska University Downs OU Golf Team

The University of Omaha golf squad met defeat in the first match of the season against the University of Nebraska at the Hillcrest Country Club on Tuesday.

The Indians were pushed back by an 11½-6½ margin, with the only Indian wins credited to Kirt Carley and Paul Anderson.

Results on the Lincoln course. Carley, OU, defeated Bob Corba, NU—3-9. Thompson, NU, defeated Jim Thompson, OU—2-1. Saffer, NU, defeated Bill Hoffman, OU—2½-1½. Mortensen, NU, defeated Jay Williams, OU—3-9. Clint, NU, defeated Mike Tucker, OU—3-9. Paul Anderson, OU, defeated Bill Gunlocks, NU—2-1.

The University of Omaha tennis team will open its season this afternoon against Nebraska Wesleyan at Dewey Park. This will be Coach Jim Borsheim's first match as coach for the Indians.

The Emporia meet is a tuneup for the bigger Kansas Relays next weekend at Lawrence. Sayers and Williams will run in the open 100 meters and the university 100 yard dash.

Sayers cannot compete in the university event because of the four year NCAA participation rule but will join Williams in the 100 meter field.

Sayers has had dreams every time he thinks of the Kansas meet last year.

The Rocket pulled a muscle and wound up second in the 100 behind Purdue's Nate Adams. Williams took third in the open 100 meters in the same meet.

Gould will also run at Kansas but at this time his events are undecided.

"Rocket" Roger Sayers is the rushing record holder for one season among Omaha University gridmen. He rushed for 707 yards in 1961 on 73 carries for a 9.7 yards per carry average.

Equipment manager Bill Liehr was a Douglas County Deputy Sheriff before accepting his post at Omaha University.

makes you look like a master in a matter of minutes. Your swing will be better and so will your putting, for this shirt was designed for freedom of movement—especially for golfers. That's why the pocket is on the right. This is the shirt that you saw on ARROW's T.V. sponsorship of the MASTERS Tournament...it withstood the test and looked as good at the last hole as it did at the tee off.
